

SOCIETY

By Bertha Hempstead

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stubbs of Lawrence of the engagement of their daughter Stella to Mr. Julius Christensen, a student in the law at the University of Kansas. The engagement carries with it a good deal of local interest, as Miss Stubbs has been a frequent visitor in Topeka and has made a good many friends here. She is a niece of former Governor and Mrs. W. R. Stubbs and a namesake of Mrs. Stubbs. She often visits her cousin, Mrs. Robert Stewart, formerly Miss Lenore Stubbs. She is extremely personable and attractive, as the women of the city can testify to be. She is a graduate of the Lawrence high school, and attended the State university. She is a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

Mr. Christensen was brought up in Lawrence, where he was graduated from the high school, and is now a student in the law at the University of Kansas. The date of the wedding is not yet decided upon.

The Research club will meet Friday afternoon, January 7, in the assembly room of the Y. W. C. A. The program will consist of music, and the showing of "The World's Twelve Greatest Pictures." Mrs. W. R. Stewart will throw the pictures on a screen, and a description of the pictures and account of the artists will be given. Mrs. J. W. Jamieson will be hostess for the afternoon.

A new Kansas book lately off the press, is by Edna Johnston Wiggin of Otego, whose work is called "Impressions of Early Kansas." The scenes of the book are laid in and about the town of Waverly, and it gives character sketches and incidents of pioneer life in this state. It contains much that is interesting, especially to club workers, and others who are particularly interested in the early history of the settlement of Kansas.

Mrs. Wiggin was born and brought up in the town she tells of in her book. Her father, Col. D. M. Johnston, settled in Doniphan county in 1855, and was a pioneer lawyer not only of Kansas, but of Nebraska also. He was a member of the first territorial legislature of Nebraska which met in a hamlet of a few dugouts, called Omaha. He was attorney for the first lawsuit ever brought in Nebraska territory. After moving to Kansas he took an active part in urging the passage of the act which opened the Indian territory to settlement. When Colonel Johnston died, at the age of 88, the Nebraska legislature adjourned for the day, the first time that had been done in the history of the state. He outlived all the other members of the first house.

Mrs. Wiggin's young daughter Mildred is a student in Washburn college, taking special work in the department of fine arts. She is quite a milliner figure about town, especially in the College Hill neighborhood, riding her black horse.

Mrs. Wiggin has an acquaintance among the club women of the state, and especially those of pioneer stock.

Miss Carolyn B. Whittlesey has issued cards for a musicale which she will give Saturday evening, January 8, at 8 o'clock at her studio in the St. Mort building, 107 West Sixth avenue.

Mrs. W. W. Bowman will entertain the Portia club Saturday night at its first meeting of the season. The husbands of the members will be guests.

Mr. Edward Jewell, assistant manager of the Atlas Insurance company, Chicago, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Mary L. Bliss. The following guests were asked to a dinner party given in his honor by Mrs. Bliss: Dr. Robert Gordon, Judge S. E. Rice, Mr. E. Eldridge, Mr. G. G. Moore, Dr. T. J. Kimbrough, Mr. George T. McDermott, Mr. George M. Stone and Mr. Robert Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. A. von Wolf, of 1020 Fillmore street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Grace, to Mr. Arthur D. Rodell, which took place New Year's day in Kansas City. Mr. and Mrs. Rodell will be at home to their friends at 1220 West Fifth avenue.

A Topeka woman who is being noticed among the local artists is Mrs. Georgene Howden Jones, who is particularly interested in photography work. She does her work entirely with the brush, contrary to the step method used as a hasty means to gain a more or less satisfactory end. She has given color to many hand-some steel engravings and various kinds of copies of great paintings. For colors she studies either the original painting or an accurate reproduction of it. Some of her own paintings of still life, which she does very well, and also her photographs are hung in some of the largest houses in town. A display of her work in the windows during the holidays attracted a good deal of attention.

One of the brides has a scheme that will excite no end of comment if she carries it out. She plans to trade her husband's big car for a stunning little electric, and then she will buy two Russian wolf hounds, to ride, one on each running board of the little machine, when the fair owner speeds down our fashionable thoroughfares.

News has been received in Topeka of the death of Mrs. A. G. Allen, who died in Denver, Colo., Saturday, December 19. The Allen family at one time lived in Potwin place, Topeka, and had many friends here. Mr. Allen was a civil engineer and was employed by the Santa Fe under J. M. Meade. Mrs. Allen was of English birth. She was a comparatively young woman at the time of her death, and was ill but a short time.

Speaking of young men who are growing up "in our midst," as they say it in Hiramville, the small daughter of a wealthy merchant of Topeka was walking home from school one day with some other children who belong to the families of "our set," and came to a newly laid cement sidewalk. The cement was not entirely dry, and all the children, excepting the young man, stepped off from the walk onto some boards that had been laid down for that purpose. The young man, stopped on the soft walk. A warning to get off was sounded from the front door of the modest little house to which the walk belonged. The snip paid no attention, but continued to leave French heel dents in the cement. Then the child went down the house swooped down on her in deadly earnest. She almost made the child think she had one foot in the grave and the other on a banana, but when at that the Y. S. never forgot

TWO GIRLS BACK

School Board Will Reinstate Irene Seery and Esther Paxton.

Suspension of Jessie Burnett May Include Spring Term.

In executive session last night the city school board voted to reinstate Irene Seery and Esther Paxton, two of the suspended girls who lost their case in the district court Monday. The members of the board held that they were less to blame for the trouble than the other girls. They will be allowed credit for the term's work, providing that by private tutorage they can make up enough work to pass examinations later in the month.

As for Jessie Burnett, the board declined to take any further action. Her suspension may be extended until the end of the spring term. However, she might be allowed to return to school provided she gets together in a harmonious spirit with the superintendent. This is considered unlikely because Judge J. A. Burnett, her father, said some harsh things about H. B. Wilson at an earlier school board meeting.

NOT A CENT FOR LULL

Commissioner Porter Has $5,000 Left in His Public Health Fund.

When the new year came in W. L. Porter, commissioner of public health, had available $5,000 more for his health department than he had last year. He has never made it just clear how he intends to spend the money but he intimates today that it would not be through the employment of a physician to handle emergency and indigent cases.

"If I have my way about it," he said, "the use of physicians will be for the sick who are too poor to pay for the services of a physician. I want a fund to handle such cases but I don't want a physician especially for such matters. Some way will be provided whereby poor people who really are sick can get medical treatment by calling any reliable physician and this department will pay the bill. I am not ready to announce the details of the plan."

Asked if any of the money would be used to take care of emergency cases at the police station, Porter replied: "Certainly not. I'm not running the police department. If they want me to run it, the mayor'll have to resign first."

Dr. C. C. Lull, county physician, is looking after such cases at the police station as require immediate treatment and is getting nothing for it. He has offered to do the work regularly for $50 a month, but Commissioner Porter holds that it is not up to his department to do the work regularly.

"Any contagious diseases or any infectious disease down at the police station will be looked after," said Porter, "but that's all."

Trouble Not Over—McKeever.
"The action of the school board last night in practically reinstating Miss Esther Paxton and Miss Irene Seery, is an admission that the school girls were right in their contention that the board had acted arbitrarily," said E. D. McKeever, the girls' attorney today. "It was like the casual man acquitted of murder confessing and relieving his conscience by committing suicide. It is stated that this action was taken 'upon the recommendation of the superintendent and principal and in light of all the evidence pertaining thereto.'"

"When did this evidence come to light? The board, the superintendent and principal denied that there was any such evidence last week, and although we contended that the evidence was just what the board decided it was last night, the honorable court believed the superintendent and principal and decided accordingly."

"It is rather rough on the judges who decided their decision for this body to discredit their decision by concluding in effect, that the evidence was different from what it was understood to be by the court. If the evidence last night justified this action in behalf of Misses Seery and Paxton it justified it at the time the original order was made, and if at the time the order was made it was not justified by the evidence, the board acted arbitrarily as we have contended."

"If the board and professors had been honest enough to make this admission before the case was decided, the decision of the judges might have been different. The grudge still openly exists between the school board and the students, as I have frequently stated, that this whole crowd of girls had to suffer because of a personal grievance of the professor against her in which she was perfectly innocent."

"It is my personal opinion that this trouble is not nearer settled than before, because as long as the board upholds the professors in unjust, arbitrary and vindictive actions and themselves act upon insufficient and biased evidence, the trouble will continue."

BACHELORS, LOOK OUT!

May Be You Had Not Remembered That This Is Leap Year.

Leap year slipped in without any attention being paid to it. Leap year is due to the fact that every year its really 364 1/4 days long. The one-fourth day is rather awkward to add on to every year and consequently is saved up until it makes a day. The custom of hanging the extra day on the month of February arose from the habit of the Romans in their reckoning of the sixth day before the Kalends of March (February 24) twice, it later being added to the end of the month.

What makes leap year famous, however, is the superstition of bachelors, you will, that it is the year permitting the feminine proposal. There is no case on record of a girl's proposal being admitted, although many accusations have been made.

The car will be given its tryout this evening. It is of sufficient power to send it over the road at a speed of from 35 to 40 miles an hour.
